SETTLE SABBATH CLASSES.—The Teac and a few friends of this useful School, readers know, is held in the Friends' Settle, took tea together on the afternoon in the Mechanics' Hall. The room was n the occasion and a sumptuous tea provided, to which about 90 persons sat down. In the evening Mr. W Pumphrey of York exhibited to them his beautiful Photographic Views The pictures were well displayed on a screen ten feet in diameter by means of the Oxy-hydrogen light. The series contains a vast number of views of objects and scenes, interesting on account of their beauty or historic interest, taken in Syria, Egypt, Spain, Switzerland, Italy, &c. The sylvan nooks of England, her Cathedrals, Abbeys, and Castles, were also well represented. On the following evening there was a public exhibition of Mr. Pumphrey's Photographs in the Mechanics' Hall. The attendance was moderately good, and the persons present were much pleased with the exhibition.
Mr. P. gets along rapidly, he is not so tedious in his vocal illustrations as many showmen are. The descriptions and views convey a great amount of useful information as well as agreeable entertainment.

CASTLEBERGH.—This capital place of amusement and recreation is likely to become more popular than ever under the spirited management of Mr Hardacre. The last addition to the stock of amusements is a hobby horse with seats and horses for a dozen young Jehus who 'keep the mill going' with great zest. We also noticed a neat little hut in which the more staid frequenters of the place may enjoy a quiet game at Draughts, Steeple chase, Dominoes, Fox and Geese, or Whist. The terms for admission are within reach of the poorest. A key to admit a Family for a whole year may be had for 5s., or a monthly ticket to admit one person may be had for 6d. and the single admission is only one penny. As the year dates from the 1st of May, we urge upon every head of a family to procure a key at once, and thus be able to take frequent advantage of such a healthy place of resort.

CASTLEBERG.

Applications for the KEY may now be made to JAMES HARDACRE, Duke Street, Settle.

1862

A meeting has been held at Settle by the operative house painters, Mr. J. Carr in the chair, when it was unanimously agreed that on and after the 1st of March, they should demand an advance of two shillings per week in wages, and leave work an hour earlier on the Saturday, as they are considerably under the standard of other provincial towns.
