ECLIPSE. 29th June, 1927.

The attention of Householders is drawn to the fact that Giggleswick and Settle lie immediately in the line of observation from the site chosen as an Observatory by the Astronomer Royal. For successful observations it is of the greatest importance that as clear an atmosphere as possible should be available. It has been ascertained that a material obstruction of view is caused by smoke, especially at the time of lighting and making up fires, which passes away when the fire has burnt up.

It is respectfully asked that on the morning of the eclipse householders will refrain from lighting or making up their fires so as to cause emission of smoke between the hours of 5-30 a.m. and 6-30 a.m. so that the atmosphere may be as clear as possible during the time observations are being made.
