The Headmaster of the above-named school writes to me as follows:-

"In the course of a telephone conversation with Mr. Blythe yesterday, I mentioned my concern about the security of certain items of new stock which have already been delivered, during the Summer Holiday. The school will be open throughout the holiday for the convenience of the builders and decorators, and such is the reconstruction that storerooms can not be locked. Indeed, those already built have no doors. We already have the new Tandberg tape recorder, and expect the new radio etc at any time. Some of our older items are very nearly as valuable and portable. Should I use my discretion about storing certain of these items at my house during the holiday? I am not proposing to go away. How would such measures affect insurances etc.?"

I should be glad of your observations on this matter as soon as possible please. School will close for the Summer holidays on Friday, 27th July, 1970.

Dear Mr. Riddiough,

x In the course of a telephone conversation with Mr. Blythe yesterday, I mentioned my concern about the security of certain items of new stock which have already been delivered, during the Summer Holiday. The school will be open throughout the holiday for the convenience of the builders and decorators, and such is the reconstruction that storerooms can not be locked. Indeed, those already built have no doors. We already have the new Tandberg tape recorder, and expect the new radio etc at any time. Some of our older items are very nearly as valuable and portable. Should I use my discretion about storing certain of these items at my house during the holiday? I am not proposing to go away. How would such measures affect insurances etc?.

Yours sincerely,

J.D.Riddiough Esq BA
