STACKHOUSE, NEAR SETTLE,

28TH FEBRUARY, 1887.

Dear

A general feeling of the inhabitants of this neighbourhood has been expressed that the Celebration of Her Majesty's Jubilee should take some permanent form, and various suggestions have been thrown out as to the way in which this idea should be carried out.

At a large Meeting held at Settle, on the 17th instant, a General Committee was formed to consider the whole question, and out of this body several Sub-Committees have been deputed to enquire into the support which the different schemes would receive.

A want much felt in this place, and one that found most favour with the Public Meeting, is a Public Hall, with convenient Ante-rooms, and a level Floor, so that it would not only be suitable for Musical and Dramatic Entertainments, but also for Balls, Tea Parties, and Social Meetings ; and I have been appointed to ascertain the feeling of the inhabitants on this point.

It is intended, if possible, to buy the present Music Hall, and entirely re-fit and enlarge the same, so as to make it answer the purposes above named. But if that should be found impossible, then it is proposed to build a new Hall.

The cost is estimated to be nearly Two Thousand Pounds, and if this amount should be raised the Hall would be a great boon to the neighbourhood, as there would be no need to have more than a nominal charge for the use of the Rooms.

The various Religious and Philanthropic bodies would thus be able to bring their views more constantly before the public, as they would not be deterred by the considerable expense that they have now to incur.

The comfort of those who go to the various Concerts and Amusements would be greatly increased ; and the much felt want of a suite of Rooms, in which private Balls or Conversaciones can be given, will be met.

My object in setting this before you is to ask you if you would kindly allow me to put your name down as a promised subscriber, provided that the Public Hall should be the form finally decided upon as the way in which the Jubilee should be commemorated in Settle (and by so doing pray do not understand that we consider it expresses your preference for this form of memorial, but our object is now simply to ascertain the pecuniary support it would receive, if adopted), and I shall therefore be greatly obliged if you would fill up and return the enclosed form to me as soon as possible, as the Committee are anxious to come to a speedy decision.

Amongst the subscriptions promised to the Fund, in the event of the Hall being decided upon, are :

WALTER MORRISON, Esq., M.P.	£ 100
HECTOR CHRISTIE, Esq., J.P.	100
JOHN BIRKBECK, Esq., Jun., J.P.	10

I am,

Your obedient Servant,

THOMAS BRAYSHAW.

THE QUEEN'S JUBILEE.—A public meeting was held in the Craven Sale-room, Settle, on Thursday evening, the 17th inst., when the question of the celebration of Her Majesty's Jubilee was under consideration. Mr. John Birkbeck, jun., of Anley House, presided, and there was a large representative gathering of townspeople and outsiders. The Rev. C. Routh, Giggleswick, wrote to the effect that the dwellers on that side of the Ribble were fully bent on a scheme of their own, viz., to provide Giggleswick with a new Church Clock, the need of which was sorely felt by almost every one there. Mr. Birkbeck having explained that he, as chairman of the Settle Board of Guardians, had received the Prince of Wales's circular addressed to the local authorities of the united kingdom, urging them to collect subscriptions on behalf of the Imperial Institute, spoke in favour of general support being accorded to the scheme, as it had the advantage of being of a national character. Mr. T. Dixon and Mr. T. A. Harvey were in favour of a public illuminated clock for Settle. Messrs. John Maudsley, Thomas Clark, and E. Brockbank, and the Rev. Jackson Mason, M.A., vicar of Settle, urged the desirability of the provision of a Butter Market. Messrs. T. Brayshaw (Stackhouse), and A. Christie (Langcliffe Place), advocated the project of a Public Hall, Mr. Christie remarking that he should be ashamed of Settle if in commemorating Her Majesty's long reign they could not raise £1,000 or £2,000. He should object to subscribe to the Imperial Institute unless he was assured beyond all doubt that there was no danger of a repetition of the South Kensington "Job." Mr. S. Burlington said he should like to see the Giggleswick Tarn restored to its former glory, as such a step might be the commencement of a new era for Settle and the vicinity. The Rev. Jackson Mason expressed the hope that the fine old Elizabethian structure, familiarly known as "The Folly," might be restored in the Jubilee year; and Mr. T. Brayshaw thought that a number of small Tablets might be erected in commemoration of Procter, the sculptor, and other worthies whom Settle had the honour of claiming as her own. The proposal to erect a Public Hall received the largest show of hands; the Butter Market scheme came next, the Giggleswick Tarn proposal obtaining about the same amount of support, and the Illuminated Clock being voted for in almost the same proportion. Finally a committee was appointed to consider and report upon the feasibility of the various projects referred to at the meeting, the following gentlemen being elected:—Mr. Walter Morrison, M.P., the Rev. Jackson Mason, M.A., vicar of Settle, the Rev. G. Style, M.A., head master of Giggleswick Grammar School, Mr. John Birkbeck, jun. (Anley House), Mr. Hector Christie (Langcliffe Place), Mr. T. Brayshaw (Stackhouse), Mr. E. Brockbank, Mr. T. A. Harvey, Mr. John Maudsley, and Mr. T. Dixon; Mr. J. H. Greenwood was appointed secretary. Mr. T. Brayshaw proposed a vote of thanks to the Chairman, and this having been heartily accorded the proceedings concluded.

DEATH OF A MEMBER OF THE YEOMANRY CORPS.—We regret having at so early a date after its formation to record the death of Mr. Francis Twisleton, butcher, of this town, who was a member of the recently formed Yeomanry Corps. Up to Saturday last Mr. Twisleton was to outward appearance in his usual health, when he was stricken with inflammation of the lungs, and death ensued early on the following Monday morning. The interment took place at Ascension Church, Settle, on Wednesday, and was numerously attended by members of the above-named corps (not in uniform) and tradesmen anxious to pay a last tribute of respect to the deceased, who by reason of his affability and genial manners had drawn to himself many warm-hearted friends.

LIBERAL ASSOCIATION.—The third annual general meeting of Liberal voters on the register of the Settle polling district was held in the Mechanics' Hall on Tuesday evening last, under the presidency of Thos. Brayshaw, Esq., for the purpose of electing chairman and committees of the Local Association. T. Brayshaw, Esq., was elected Chairman of the Local Committee. Mr. A. Vaughan Walker Secretary and Treasurer, the following gentlemen comprising the Local Executive Committee:—Rev. G. H. Brown, Messrs. W. Dawson, H. Skirrow, John Lord (Victoria-square), Thos. Harger, M. Graham, John Snell, Joseph Wilkinson, Joseph Bell, R. Clark, C. Graham, J. Lord (Greenhead), R. Thompson, Wm. Ralph, Robert Irvine, J. P. Robinson, T. Whiteley, and H. Brassington. Six representatives were elected to act on behalf of this polling district on the General Committee of the Skipton Division Liberal Association, viz.: Rev. G. H. Brown, Messrs. W. Dawson, H. Skirrow, John Lord (Victoria-square), T. Harger, and M. Graham. A vote of thanks was cordially accorded to Mr. Thomas Harger for his valuable services in the past, he being obliged to resign through pressure of other business. After discussing the best means to promote the objects of the Liberal Association, in which G. M. Robinson, Esq., took an active part, the meeting terminated with best thanks to the chairman for presiding.

A large representative gathering of the town and neighbourhood was present. The Rev. C. Routh, G. M. Mr. T. A. Harvey was illuminated clerk for Settle. Mr. Thomas Clark, and E. Brockbank Mason, M.A., vicar of Settle, on the provision of a Butter Market (Stackhouse), and A. He stated to the Imperial Institute unless all doubt that there was no danger of a new era for Settle and South Kensington "Job." Mr. Jackson Mason expressed the Elizabethan structure, familiarly might be restored in the Jubilee. Brayshaw thought that a number of other worthies whom Settle might claim as her own. The proposed scheme came next, the Giggleswick Illuminated Clock being voted in favour. Finally a committee was appointed to consider and report upon the projects referred to at the meeting. Mr. W. A. Jackson Mason, M.A., vicar of Settle, M.A., head master of the School, Mr. John Birkbeck, Hector Christie (Langcliffe Park, Stackhouse), Mr. E. Brockbank Mason, M.A., vicar of Settle, John Maudsley, and Mr. T. Dixon were appointed secretaries. Mr. Routh was thanked for his hearty vote of thanks to the Chairman, and the proceedings were brought to a close.

DEATH OF A MEMBER OF THE YEOMANRY CORPS.—We regret having at so early an hour to record the death of Mr. Francis of this town, who was a member of the Yeomanry Corps. Up to Saturday he was outwardly well, but on Sunday he was stricken with inflammation of the lungs, and died on Wednesday, and was buried on Wednesday of the above-named corps (not in the town) by reason of his affability and the many warm friends drawn to himself many warm friends.

LIBERAL ASSOCIATION.—The meeting of Liberal voters on polling day was held in the evening last, under the presidency of Mr. A. Vaughan Walker, Secretary, for the purpose of electing a committee of the Local Association. Mr. A. Vaughan Walker was elected Chairman, and the following gentlemen comprised the committee:—Rev. G. H. B. Skirrow, John Lord (Victor), M. Graham, John Snell, Joseph R. Clark, C. Graham, J. Lordson, Wm. Ralph, Robert Irwin, Whiteley, and H. Brassington. Mr. A. Vaughan Walker was elected to act on behalf of the General Committee of the Association, viz.: Rev. G. H. B. Skirrow, John Lord (Victor), M. Graham, and Mr. A. Vaughan Walker. A vote of thanks was accorded to Mr. Thomas Hargrave, who presided in the past, he being obliged to leave the meeting on account of other business. After discussing the objects of the Liberal Association, in which G. M. Robinson, Esq., took an active part, the meeting terminated with best thanks to the chairman for presiding.

Then came a long string of Vehicles, representing the various trades of the town in actual operation. Four prizes were given for the best and it was hard indeed for the judges to decide which deserved the prize. A conspicuous feature in the procession was the Old Stocks, which were two promising subjects. The route taken by the procession was by way of Kirkgate, Settle Bridge, the Church, Upper Market Place, round by Ingfield, back to the Market Place. "God Save the Queen" was again sung by a vast gathering, and cheers were raised for the Majesty. The crowd dispersed, the children going to the Cricket and Independent Schools, where tea was served to some 700 children under 15 years, every child having previously been presented with a medal.

At 6 o'clock, about 3000 people assembled on the Cricket Field, to witness a varied programme of contests for old and young, amateurs and professionals. The arrangements were admirably carried out under the control of a select committee. The Sports concluded at 9 o'clock, at which hour about 50 Cyclists assembled at the Cricket Field, in fancy costumes and with decorated machines. The display was splendid, and showed that great care had been bestowed on the arrangement of the machines. After a parade through the streets, the cavalcade returned to the Cricket Field, where prizes were awarded for neatness of appearance and decorated machines.

At 10 o'clock there was a display of Fireworks from Castleberg, and a lengthy programme was brought to a close by the band once again singing "God Save the Queen," in the Market Place.

The Settle Celebration was a complete success, and it is to be hoped that some permanent memorial of this great event may be erected.

Queen of our Homes.

QUEEN of our homes and hearts,
Thy realms rejoice to-day:
Great cities hush their marts,
The village greens are gay:
Thy people kneel to bless His hand
Who made the ruler of the land.

Thro' sun, thro' storm and stress—
Our Queen for sixty years—
Thy soul no littleness
Has known, thy heart no fears,
Therefore we thank our God Whose will
Empowered thee and upholds thee still

For more than wealth's increase
And bounds set far and wide,
For thy just love of Peace
With Honour at its side,
We sing our praises to the Lord
Who gave thee wisdom with the sword.

For more than power in strife,
For queenly gifts of good,
The pattern of pure life
To maid and motherhood,
For this thy gracious dower we praise
The Giver of thy lengthened days.

For more than sov'reign place
Among the kings that reign,
For all thy constant grace
To woe and want and pain,
Thy realms rejoice from shore to shore
And pray "God save thee evermore!"
Amen.

The procession throughout was an admirable one, and the muster most creditable to the town. The trades mustered strongly, and some excellent turnouts were shown. Prizes were given by the Tradesmen's Association for the best decorated horses, and these were taken by Mr Robert Smith, carter for Mr H. Christie, Langcliffe Mills, and Mr Joseph Ralph, carter for Mr John Brown, Chapel-street. A novel feature was the appearance of the old town stocks, with two interesting subjects imprisoned therein. The route taken was by way of Kirkgate, Craven Terrace, Settle Bridge, the Church, Upper Settle, Ingfield and Halsteads, to the Market Place. The children were taken to the National and Independent schools for tea, and every child received a commemoration medal. At 6-0 p.m. sports for adults were held in the cricket field, and the various events were keenly contested, over three thousand spectators being present. A noticeable feature in these events was the capital riding of Mr. Herbert Marsden, who won both cycle events. At 9-0 o'clock a fancy dress cycle parade took place, when prizes were offered. That this part of the programme was popular was evidenced by the remarkably strong turnout of both lady and gentlemen cyclists, whose dresses, tasteful or comical, were much admired and the prizes were awarded as follows:—For the greatest novelty in dress, Mr. Raymond Atkinson, who made up capitally as "John Chinaman"; 2nd Mr. Harper, as an "Indian chief"; and 3rd Mr. H. Roberts, as "The monkey brand." For the neatest dress (ladies) Miss M. Holmes and Miss Ellershaw were bracketed equal, and Mr. J. W. Hesleden carried away a similar prize in the gentlemen's class. For the best decorated machine Mr. A. Wilkinson was first in the gentlemen's, and amongst the ladies Miss L. Hook, both classes being very keenly contested. For the Cycling Club's prizes Mr. Chadwick secured the novelty prize, with Messrs. W. Irvine and H. Marsden second and third. Mr. Wentworth Hull was first for the best decorated cycle, and Mr. Jas. Foster and Mr. William Lambert with second and third prizes respectively. The judges for the parade were Mr. E. Handby and Mr. J. W. Dugdale. The hon. secs. were Messrs. Thos. Brayshaw and J. W. Shepherd, under whose direction the various committees carried out the programme without a hitch. The Cycling Club afterwards held a dance.

GIGGLESWICK.

Here the sports, &c., were open to the residents of Giggleswick township only, and the day's proceedings were commenced by a service in the Church for the children, followed by the May-day ceremonies at the village cross, the Queen this year being Miss Brennand, Belle-hill. In the sports field the first item was plaiting the Maypole, which was succeeded by sports for children, and at four o'clock tea was provided for all inhabitants over 60 years of age, and at five o'clock a free tea was provided for all under 16 years of age. This was followed by tea for adults, after which the school bonfire was lit and a display of fireworks given. The Giggleswick Band enlivened the proceedings during the day with selections of music. Dancing was kept up in the National School until the early hours of morning to the strains of Thompson's band.

LANGCLIFFE.

Here some pretty arches had been erected, and a novelty in the day's proceedings was furnished by the "Veteran Band," which, considering the lack of regular practice, gave some excellent music. Tea was provided in the National School for all residents, and the evening was spent in sports, &c., which were heartily enjoyed and proved the source of much amusement.

STAINFORTH.

On Sunday the appointed service was held in St. Peter's Church. On Tuesday, through the untiring efforts of Rev. J. Mathias (vicar) and Mr. Jas. Foster and a large number of willing workers, the village was en fête to commemorate the event. Early in the afternoon the children met at the school, and after receiving medals were conducted by Mr. Smith, their teacher, to the Church. After a short service Mr. Langden's band, from Leeds, played selections of music in various parts of the village, and then went to a field lent by Mr. John Swinbank, where a programme of keenly-contested sports was gone through. A meat tea was provided, Mrs. Swinbank being at the head.

PROCLAMATION OF KING EDWARD VII
AT SETTLE.

When our late beloved Queen, Victoria the Good, passed away, and her eldest son, Albert Edward, Prince of Wales, was called to the Throne of England, the Privy Council issued a Proclamation to that effect, to be publicly read in towns. As such Proclamations had invariably been made in Settle Market-place from time immemorial, the District Councillors for the Township placed themselves in communication with the Under Sheriff of the County, and in response to their application a copy of the document was forwarded by him.

It was decided to have it proclaimed on Saturday, February 2nd, 1901, and as the Services held at the various places of worship in the town that afternoon in memory of Her late Majesty were arranged to conclude soon after three o'clock, the hour of four was fixed on for the ceremony.

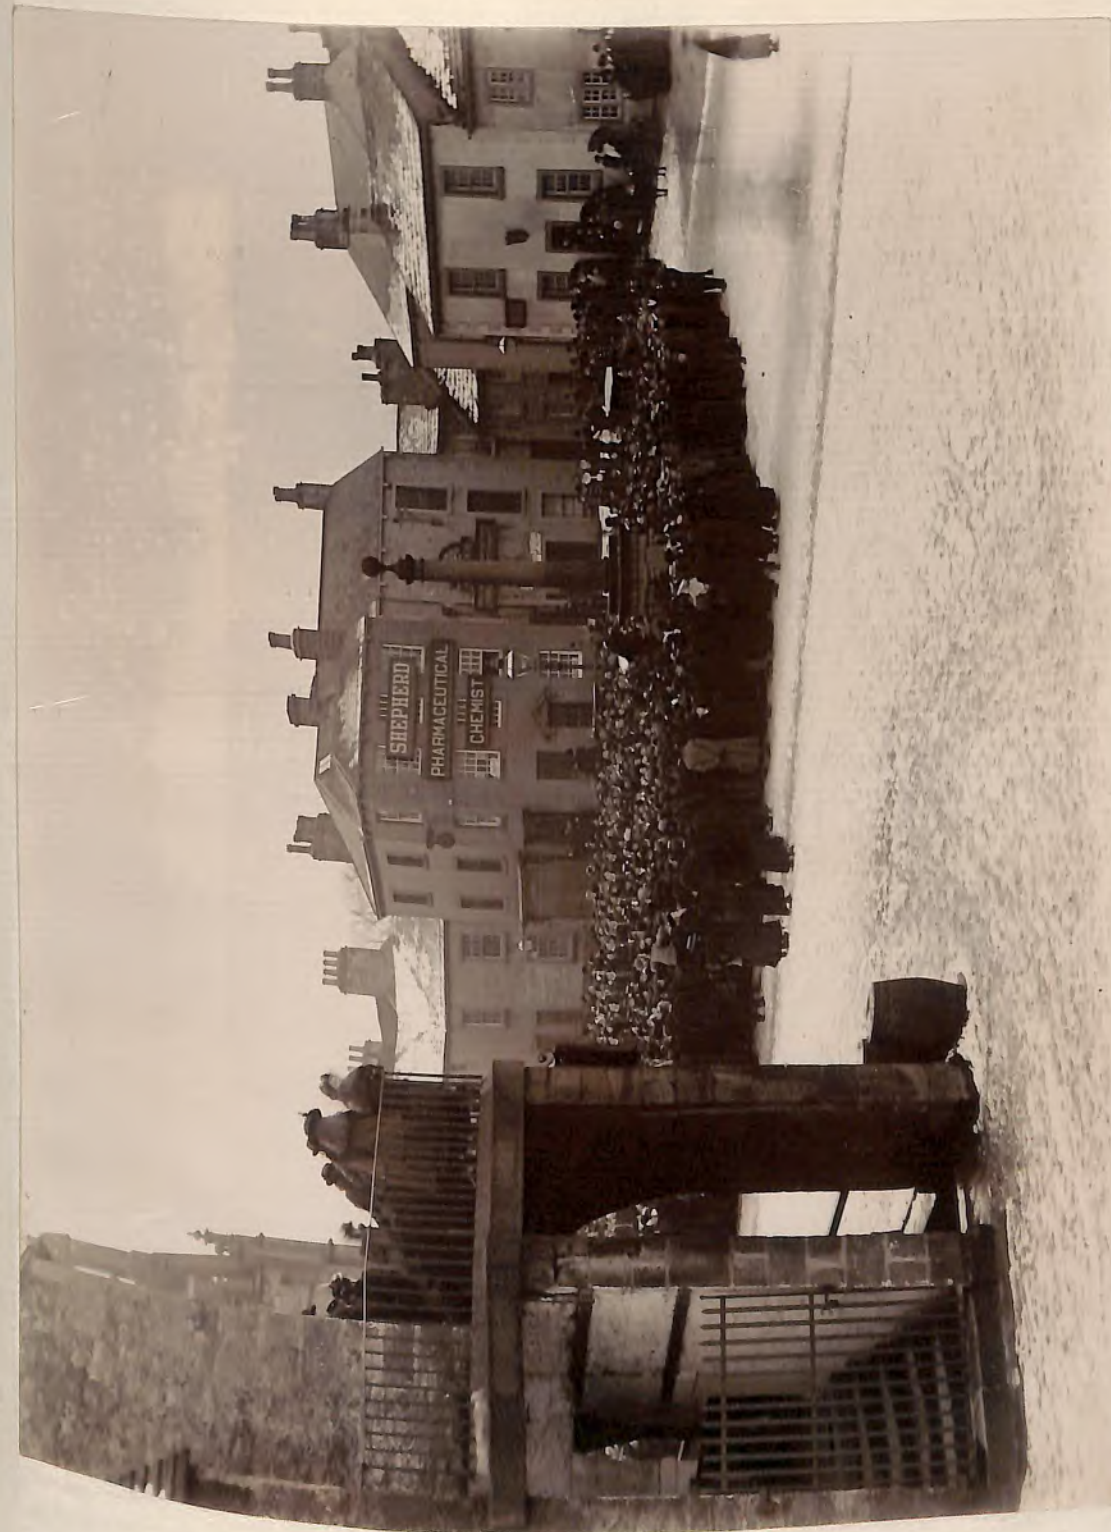

A pedestal was erected close to the Market Cross (from the shaft of which the Union-Jack hung at half-mast high.) The members of the District and Parish Councils took their places to the left of this, whilst to the right were grouped the Clergy, Ministers and public officials. The Volunteers, under the command of Lieut. Hudleston, formed three sides of a hollow square in front, some 400 school children occupying the centre. The general public formed a dense ring round the Volunteers, over 2000 people being present.

At the appointed hour Mr. C. E. Bygrave, Clerk to the Settle Rural District Council, announced the purport of a letter received from the Under-Sheriff, which accompanied the Proclamation, and, handing the latter document to Mr. Thos. Brayshaw, the senior District Councillor for Settle, requested him to "Proclaim the King."

After a fanfare of bugles by Messrs. Bulcock, Edmondson, and Brown, the Proclamation, which declared Edward VII to be our lawful King, and acknowledged loyalty to him, was read by Mr. Brayshaw, and on his terminating the reading thereof with the exclamation "God save the King!" the Volunteers gave a Royal Salute.

The flag was then hoisted to the top of the cross, whereupon the buglers gave a second fanfare, and the Volunteers saluted the flag.

After "Three cheers for the King" had been called for and given, the assembly joined in singing "God save the King," after which the flag was again lowered to half-mast high, and the ceremony of proclaiming a new Sovereign at the Market-cross of the Loyal and Ancient Chartered Market-town of Settle, (which spot had witnessed many similar scenes in by-gone centuries), had once more been performed.

SETTLE.

Nearly every street had its display of bunting, etc., on Monday. In the evening the Volunteers and the Boys' Brigade turned out, and, headed by the Town Band, paraded the streets, afterwards mustering in the Market-place, where the members of the Parish Council, who had adjourned their monthly meeting, had assembled. The Chairman (Mr James Jackson) presided. The National Anthem was heartily sung by a crowd of some 2000 persons. Cheers were given for the King and Queen, with a special round for Lord Kitchener. Mr Jackson proposed, and Mr Hunter seconded, the following resolution:—"We, the inhabitants of Settle, in meeting assembled, do hereby desire to place on record an expression of our thankfulness at the termination of the war in South Africa, of an intense gratification at the conclusion of an honourable peace between the British nation and their gallant foes, and of our sincere hope that contentment and prosperity may be the lot of our fellow-subjects in the Transvaal and Orange River Colonies."

AUSTWICK.

The tidings of peace did not become common knowledge until early on Monday morning. Speedily the news passed from house to house, and in an incredibly short space of time flags and bunting were displayed from most vantage points. The scholars attending the National School were granted a holiday. A torchlight procession was organised for the evening, and a bonfire lighted on the green. First in the procession were thirteen horsemen (several in military attire), and two lady equestrians—Mrs Ingilby and Miss Armstrong—and following in Mr F Watkinson's trap was a local band of performers—Miss Mattinson, and Messrs W Bird, J Holmes, R E Metcalfe, and T Campbell; the school children followed, a number being attired in the orthodox nigger minstrel style, and bringing up the rear were cyclists and a large proportion of the male population of the village, bearing torches. At this stage Mr T R Clapham, of Austwick Hall, addressed the assemblage, and said they in Austwick shared along with all Britons their sense of thankfulness that the long Boer war was at an end. Whatever form of government was devised for the future rule of the conquered territories they would all hope for rule founded on the principles of peace, equity, truth, and justice (applause). Rev W J Courtney spoke briefly, and stated that a thanksgiving service would be held in the Parish Church on Sunday morning. The "Old Hundred" hymn was then sung. Rev A Ingilby alluded to the courageous devotion of British and Colonial troops during the war, and called for cheers, which were lustily given, in token of appreciation. The National Anthem was sung, cheers being given for the King and Queen.

MALHAM.

The joyful news was received at Malham about 9.30 on Sunday night, and in the morning, when the news was confirmed, everybody rejoiced in expressing thankfulness. Flags were hoisted in different parts of the village, and the Church bell was rung. At Kirkby Malham the workmen left their work.

LONGPRESTON.

The peace was celebrated by the ringing of the church bells and the hoisting of flags on the Parish Church tower, the Conservative Club, and for the first time, on the new May-poles, and at many private houses. A large banner was displayed at the Mechanics' Institute bearing the words, "How blest the sight, the joy how sweet, when brothers joined with the brothers meet, in bonds of mutual love." The scholars were given a holiday, and at 9.30 a.m. paraded round the Concrete and sang "God save the King." Mr Thelwell said all would rejoice with him at the conclusion of the war, which had been so costly in treasure and life, and it must be a source of pleasure to the people and to the King himself that the proclamation had been made before the Coronation—Mr J W Beecroft ascended the church tower, and on the cornet played the National Anthem, etc. A choir of gentlemen also from the same position in the afternoon sang hymns and the National Anthem.

INGLETON.

The good news did not reach Ingleton until Monday morning, when the village at once became en fete. The scholars attending the National School had a day's holiday granted them, and flags and various devices were put out in all directions. Mr J W Tate granted the men employed at the granite works a half-holiday. In the evening the bells of St. Mary's rang out merrily, and a procession round the town was organised. It was headed by Supt. Haynes and the Ingleton Brass Band, after whom came the local Volunteers, under the command of Captain Tate. In the Square the Volunteers fired a feu de joie and also several volleys in honour of the occasion. Cheers were given for the King, Lord Roberts, Lord Kitchener, "Tommy Atkins," and peace.
