old Jack Taylor says his Greendane Barn is one of Carlisle's also the one he has near Montpelier Hilton Lodge. Jack called it old Marriotts because some people of that name used to live at Hilton Lodge.

Well, Joel

July 12th 1976

- 1 Is it a well, this was found when digging in the yard
- 2 It has water in
- 3 It to be pumped out tomorrow
- 4 Then it is to be inspected.
- 5 found today when they were cleaning up the yard.

They had filled in the old Sheep Dip Place.

It's not a well but the old Soar Tank, from the farm building that is being converted into a House

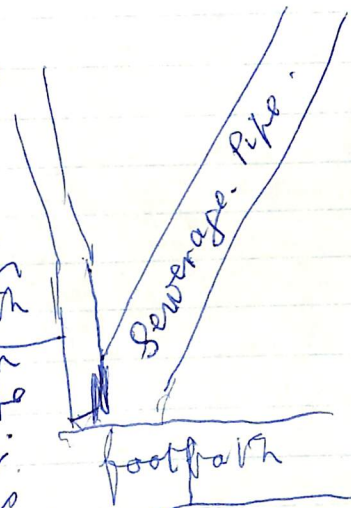

They had the Bull Doser in the yard and they pulled the concrete lid off it the hole is quite large. Then they dug a drain out to the Road.

The Painters are in, it's fairly getting on now Eric and David laying gravel for the paving in front of house yesterday. Bulldozer brought a mountain of soil from up the back. They gave $$$ some more wood.

Dec 7th ["] This week 1976

Patrick's came reset door Dec 7th the men are strong doing the Big wall in front of the house and some men are busy with the Barn at the Top making a Garage. Last week they tar-maced the Road down the croft which they have been making these last weeks. They let us have some soil which they brought from Sutton, Sam got some as well.

a bit later on.
They put up a Standard Lamp so they can see down the back.

Gill Church.

The Present Church stands upon the bank of a deep glen whence it has obtained the name of Gill Church.

The Choir from its long lancet (early English) windows three of which occupy their original position in the east end together with its slender buttresses, which run out beneath the square seems to be the identical building by which the monks replaced their own work of havoc about the Reign of Henry III, but it has been raised and the stalls within repaired at a much later period on the northeast end of the stalls are carved the arms of Kirkstall viz 3 swords in fess. The steeple which is strong and handsome and from its elevated situation a good object on every side has the following date CCCC^oXXIIII intended for 1524. and the only instance I ever observed in which the millenary numeral is omitted but the omission was designed for the stone is evidently entire. The tower contains three bells, the first has the legend Peace and good Neighbourhood) the second. Render therefore

This is an Idea that came to me on Feb 20, 1951.
I was thinking about the Sea and an Island. Did the Sea with its washings back and two like this form the Land from Sand and what ever there is the the water pile stuff

Up till it started peeling out of the water and finally the water couldn't reach
